RBT Products:

RBT's my | mTravel and mTravel products provide a complete corporate travel solution for both the managed and unmanaged business traveler

Our IdentiFlyer™ services provide credit card fraud and identity theft solutions inside our mTravel solutions and they are sold on a transaction basis to other online travel solution providers.

All RBT products are delivered as a Software as a Service (SaaS) basis over the Internet.

Magellan360 powers high-touch traveler relationships by providing online back office services to travel management professional in the US.

Overview: RBT has assembled a management and governance team that knows how to start and grow companies and can turn technology into competitive business advantage. The team has excellent alignment regarding corporate vision and business motivation as well as complementary skills and competencies needed to achieve RBT's corporate goals. Most of all, this team spent a lot of time working with one another before we formed RBT. This promotes a high level of confidence that we can work together well, can trust each other to accomplish what the business needs and that we will spend our energies moving the business forward.

Tom Murray – owns the driving vision for creating software services that made life better for business travelers. Tom pioneered early e-commerce offerings as a founder of Select Vermont and Falling Leaf Interactive. He was a founder of AOL Select, an AOL partner venture. At Sideware Corporation he led the Technology Sales and Support team as a senior vice president for this publicly-held ECRM start-up. "With You All the Way" describes Tom's idea of RBT's organizing principal and market value.

Doug Foran – brings deep experience launching products and making sales for early stage technology companies. Doug ran product marketing for IDI, Inc., taking the company to the NASDAQ National Market. He took two document technology products to worldwide markets for Xerox Corporation. As a founder of Concept Five Technologies he ran sales and marketing for this successful early entrant in the Information Security market. Doug's specialty in B2B offerings makes the corporate travel market a natural fit.

Phil Wherry – enjoys an international reputation as a technology leader for information security and wireless applications. Phil architected the security infrastructure at Concept Five for the first online stock trading system in Europe for Swedebank. He ran IT operations and network development for 40 worldwide locations at Leap Wireless. Many technology companies depend on Phil's judgments regarding "What's next?" He will help answer that for the business traveler.

Scott Ahlsmith – provides thought leadership for the travel industry. Scott's first big impact came with the TRAMS back office automation product that has 80% adoption in U.S. travel companies. He serves as President of the Travel Institute, founded Magellan Travel Group, and plays a critical role at Virtuoso for bringing a global luxury travel trading platform to market. Industry leaders listen when Scott speaks and he will keep RBT's value proposition at the industry forefront.

Paul Gray – sits on the board of several large publicly held companies including United Therapeutics. Paul is a recognized financial expert under the rules of major stock exchanges and earned his stripes as an auditor for Ernst and Young and KPMG. He co-founded, Tenth Gate a public company with holdings in the healthcare space and coaches entrepreneurs through programs at Case Western Reserve and West Virginia Universities. RBT depends on Paul to guide the corporate structure, capitalization and entrance into public markets.
